Army National Guard Soldiers may receive inactive-duty training retirement point credit for their attendance at military seminars, symposia, and similar assemblies, either separately or in connection with professional meetings, as authorized by Department of Defense Instruction 1215.07, paragraph 6.4.2.6, and National Guard Regulation 680-2, paragraph 2-4 and table 2-5, rule 7.

2. Meeting attendance for retirement point credit must be authorized by the unit commander or the State Adjutant General prior to performance of the duty. Performance will be reported using DA Form 1380, Record of Individual Performance of Reserve Training Duty, or a similar certificate. The Soldier must register with a meeting monitor or provide the completed form to the unit of assignment for entry into official records.

3. Soldiers will attend the meeting in appropriate military uniform. The meeting must be of at least four hours duration. 4. Meeting attendance will not be in any paid status. Retirement points must not be awarded for meeting attendance under any other training provision; and no inactive-duty training retirement point credit may be earned for a day on which the Soldier performs active service, whether paid or unpaid. Only one retirement point per day of the meeting may be credited. Not more than 10 retirement points may be credited to a Soldier's retirement credit record under this provision from the sum of all such participation in professional organizations in any anniversary year.
